WASHINGTON MILITARY DEPARTMENT POLICY

Human Resource Policy Number 03-204

ETHICS

Supersedes: Policy 1-1-1 Conflict of Interest dated November 2, 1992, and all previous WMD policies of the same name prior to November 2, 1992

1. PURPOSE. Provides direction to Washington Military Department (WMD) employees in making appropriate choices, acting in a manner that demonstrates high ethical standards, and complying with provisions of the State Ethics Law.

This policy is not intended to supplant other directions provided to employees in the form of policies, procedures, desk manuals, and other official documents of the Department.

2. APPLICABILITY: This policy applies to all State employees within the Military Department. It does not apply to guardsmen on state active duty or to federal personnel to include Active Guard Reserves (AGRs), traditional guardsmen in a federal military status, or military technicians.
3. REFERENCE.
  - a. RCW 42.52 and WAC 292-110.
4. POLICY. Department employees are expected to maintain high professional and ethical standards at all times.
  - a. All Department employees are responsible for knowing and adhering to the State Ethics Law (RCW 42.52) and regulations (WAC 292-110), applicable policies/procedures and for making choices that exemplify an adherence to high ethical standards. Employees are to avoid actions that create even the appearance of using their position for personal gain or private advantage for themselves or another person. Information to assist employees in complying with ethics requirements is provided in Human Resource Procedure 03-204, Ethics Guidelines.
  - b. Employees should notify their supervisors of any actual or potential violations of this policy. When in doubt, employees should consult with their supervisors and/or the Department's Human Resource Office.
  - c. The Human Resource Office will assist in the identification and resolution of potential problems and interpretation of ethics-related laws and policies.
  - d. Violations of the State Ethics Law and/or this policy may lead to corrective or disciplinary action up to and including dismissal.

ETHICS GUIDELINES

General Expectations

- A. Employees are responsible for knowing and adhering to applicable ethics laws and policies, and for making choices that exemplify an adherence to high ethical standards. The following general guidelines are provided to assist employees in making ethic determinations. Detailed information on issues related to state ethics, including interpretations and clarifying examples of RCW and WAC, is available at the Executive Ethics Board's website.

<http://www.wa.gov/ethics>

1. Employees shall not:

- a. Have a financial or other interest or engage in any business or professional activity that is in conflict with their official duties.
- b. Use their official position to secure special privileges for themselves or any other person.
- c. Receive any compensation from a source, except the state, for performing or deferring the performance of any official duty.
- d. Accept any gifts. The following items are excluded from the gift restriction:
  - i. Items from family, friends, or other employees not intended to influence the employee's performance or non-performance of their official duties.
  - ii. Unsolicited plaques and awards of appreciation.
  - iii. Items of nominal value, regularly and normally offered by an organization to customers, potential customers, or the general public as samples or for public relations or advertising purposes.
  - iv. Food and beverages on infrequent occasions in the ordinary course of meals, when related to official duties.
  - v. Awards, prizes, scholarships or other items provided in recognition of academic or scientific achievement.

- e. Disclose confidential information to an unauthorized person or use confidential information for personal benefit or to benefit another.
  - f. Use state resources for personal benefit or to benefit another, except as required during the execution of their official duties.
  - g. Use state resources for political campaigns.
  - h. Assist another person in a transaction involving the state if they participated in that transaction or the transaction was part of their job responsibilities within the past 2 years, except as required during the execution of their official duties.
2. Former employees shall not:
- a. Within one year of leaving state employment, accept employment or compensation from an employer contracting with the Department if, during the 2 years immediately preceding termination of state employment they:
    - i. Negotiated or administered a contract with the new employer in excess of $10,000; and
    - ii. Their duties with the new employer would include fulfilling or implementing that contract.
  - b. Within 2 years following the termination of state employment, have a beneficial interest in a contract or grant which was expressly authorized or funded by executive action in which the employee participated.
- B. The occasional and limited use of state resources that supports the organizational effectiveness, enhances job related skills, is reasonable and of negligible cost, does not violate an ethics law, and does not undermine public trust and confidence.
1. Employees may make occasional but limited use of state resources with prior Supervisor approval, only if:
- a. There is no cost to the state;
  - b. It does not interfere with the performance of the employee's official duties;
  - c. It does not disrupt or distract from the conduct of state business due to volume or frequency; and
  - d. It does not compromise the security or integrity of state information or software.

2. Occasional and limited use of state resources does not include use for:

- a. The purpose of conducting an outside business;
- b. The purpose of supporting, promoting, or soliciting for an outside organization or group unless provided by law or authorized by the Secretary/designee;
- c. Campaigning or other political activity;
- d. Advertising, selling, or other commercial uses; or
- e. Illegal activities.

C. The appropriate use of state resources ultimately rests with the employee who uses or authorizes use.
